

HOW WE WORK:

Get a Dedicated Team Handpicked for Your Needs

As a trial attorney, you know that experienced jury consultants can make a big difference at trial. You also know your client has a budget.

At The Strategic Image, we provide top-flight trial consulting at a price your clients can afford. Drawing from a large pool of highly experienced jury consultants, legal graphics artists, and master storytellers (many of whom we've worked with for years), we carefully match skills, talent, and services to the specific demands of your job and field a team custom-tailored to your needs. We guide the team's efforts, supervise their work, and manage their time, but submit only one bill to you. You get a "Dream Team" without the administrative hassle or the pain of subsidizing corporate overhead and employee benefits in every bill.

Best of all, we don't send marketing personnel to your office. We come prepared to work. We ask potential clients to send us pleadings before we meet so that we arrive fully familiar with your case and able to provide valuable guidance right from the start. If, after our meeting, you decide to hire us (and we think you will), we'll bill our normal consulting fees for the time spent reviewing the file. But even if you decide to go another direction, you'll have gained from our insight and expertise at absolutely no cost to you.

We invite you to investigate Our Services then CONTACT US to make a fast break out of the starting gate on your next trip to court.
